In Loving Memory of

Jennifer Lynne Forbing

(July 1, 1983 - October 28, 2006)

- Jennifer Lynne Forbing -

Graced us with Her presence, on July 1st, 1983.

-Beloved daughter of Nicholas J. & Sheila L. Forbing.

-Sister to Kristy L. Forbing & Aimee L. Faust.

Graced the Heavens of Our Lord, on October 28th, 2006, at the age of 23.

You will live on, in our memories, hearts and prayers... forevermore.

Our dearest Jennifer, one comfort is in knowing, we will see You again one day...

*Eyes like the sea,
So crystal, so clear.
A smile like an angel,
So sweet and so dear.*

*She lived life to the fullest,
Of which theres no doubt.
Because thats what our Jen,
Was all about.*

*A smile so bright,
She lit up the night.
For in her presence,
Everything was alright.*

*Her sweetness, her kindness,
She gave to us all.
A gift she gave freely,
Shared so dearly.*

*Jennifer our Angel,
High up above.
She now protects us,
With her undying Love.*

*Thank you for giving of your all,
You shared your gifts in every way.
Inspiring us to greater hopes,
How WE wish that you could stay.*

Happy Birthday

July 1, 2007

Happy Birthday Jeni! I miss you so much. Today and yesterday have been hard on me knowing that you are not here on earth celebrating your big 24. I was able to find comfort in remembering your pervious birthdays that we shared together. I keep thing of your 21st birthday when we went to QT before heading down to ALT and I triped and fell in front of everyone and you made fun of me the whole way down to the city. I still can hear that laugh of yours and it brings a huge smile to my face. You are definately not forgotten my friend. Thank you so much for all the times you allowed me to be apart of your birthday I will treasure them always and hold this day special for the rest of my life. I love you so much. May god be with you and your family.

A niece

June 25, 2007

Hey my sis...well it has been hard. I have missed you so much, especially with the birth of Ava Lynne. I can't wait to tell her why her middle name is Lynne. She is beautiful and as a new life is brought into our family the emptiness that came with your death is still there. I look at your picture everyday and smile at all the memories I do have of you. I was just thinking today when we were at Kristy's house and you were riding AJ's bike...that always makes me smile. Please continue to watch over mom and dad. All my love

Thanks for watching over us

March 28, 2007

As you probably know I sit on my deck and watch the waves a lot... It's sometimes crazy to think how much has changed over the years. Your boy is moving down here in a few weeks. I guess he is staying with me until he finds a place. I know I will try and be more patient with him. But we won't have you to stick up for him when I get impatient. It's wierd how history repeats itself sometimes. My roommate, your neighbor, my roommate again... We shared a tear or two over you a few months ago. Hopefully it will be happier times, this time. I just wanted to say thanks for the memories, the watchful eye of today and the dreams of the future. U r missed...

The pain is still there

March 26, 2007

You know I thought I would have learned to control my sadness or my pain a little better by now...but that is not the case. The sadness of not having you there sneaks up on me too often. My bell is growing quite big and I continue to think of how you won't be here on earth to greet the next little neice. Your friends have put up some awesome pictures of you, they look so great. I forgot that we were in Ft. Wayne long enough for you to cheer. We still have no name for our little babe, she is the nameless child # 3, poor thing. Julia and Carson are getting so big, please continue to watch over them.

A Visit

March 17, 2007

i had a dream of you this morning, the dream seemed to be focused on you, some joyous occasion, maybe a birthday, you appeared very young too me in this dream, maybe 13-15yrs old. Many people were their, though i dont recall knowing or recognizing anyone in this dream but, you, and your mother.

Anyways, seemed to be lots of people lining up too see you, and i was in the back.
You walked past everyone, stopped by me, looked up, and smiled. It was at this point i woke up.

I know this was no mere dream, as so much a visit from you, letting me know, your in a better place, doing well, and that YOU are still with us.

As brief as this visit may have been, i know you had more stops like this to make.

This has brought such great relief too me, ones faith can be tested.
your passing has surely brought questions to my mind ?
is their more beyond this life ?

Your visit has answered these questions
yes, their is more beyond this life oh, the wonderous and amazing things you must be seeing

God Bless YOU for letting me know your doing well, and that we are in your thoughts as much as you are in ours.

Love... Uncle Brian

Guess What

January 19, 2007

So on Tuesday we found out that we are having a baby girl. It was a bittersweet moment for me...I called mom, then Kristy and then of course I naturally went to call you. I look at your picture every morning and sometimes it makes me cry and sometimes it makes me laugh and sometimes I just smile at you. I talk to you every chance I get and I guess writing to you on here it just plain therapy. I am saddened by the thought that our new daughter will not get a chance to meet you here on earth. You were so excited when I called to tell you I was pregnant with the 3rd babe, even though I know mom had probably already told you :-). And yes, you called it I surrendered to getting a minivan. You would be proud though, I roll in style with a Nissan Quest! I love you and I miss you Jen, you are always my diva of a little sister. Keep preparing our house in heaven.

Tonight..... I was thinking of you... I wish you were here this Christmas.... I love you... and I miss you

A thought

November 29, 2006

Oh Jen, I miss you so much. My heart aches to see you again, to hug you again, to talk with you just one last time... There isn't a day that I am not thinking of you and praying for you. I want you to know that we are all trying to be strong for you, we want you to be proud of our strength, courage and most of all faith in the Lord. There are no words that could give a grieving family or friends peace, but to see all the friends and family that love you and miss you brings a certain amount of comfort. You touched so many lives and no one will be the same without you. Jen, please look down on mom and dad and offer them some comfort, their hearts will never be the same after losing you. Oh, Jen there is so much I want to say, and it has taken me this long just to get here. I love you and will always, always be thinking of you my dear. You have taught all of us a lesson in life's tragedies, the importance of faith in the Lord, and what it means to have priorities with God and family coming first. We will always be the three little witches, Heta, Beta and Greta. I love you little sis...

Hope and Prayers

November 21, 2006

We are very blessed to have known Jenny, she was a special girl with a smile that could enlighten a dark room. We believe there is hope beyond what we see and through this great trial our prayer is that we will one day see her again.

To the Family, we are truly sorry and as with every tragic event, we have bargained, put ourselves back in time, and wished there was something we could have did, but we realize that God has a plan with each soul. Our prayer is that the God of all comfort will be with you, strengthen you, and guide you. May God bless you.

The Plan Of The Master Weaver

Our lives are but fine weavings
That God and we prepare
Each life becomes a fabric planned
And fashioned in His care.

We may not always see just how
The weavings intertwine

But we must trust the Master's hand
And follow His design.

For He can view the pattern
Upon the upper side
While we must look from underneath
And trust in Him to guide...

Sometimes a strand of sorrow
Is added to His plan
And though it's difficult for us
We still must understand.

That's it's He who fills the shuttle
It's He who knows what's best
So we must weave in patience
And leave to Him the rest.

Not till the loom is silent
And the shuttles cease to fly
Shall God unroll the canvas
And explain the reason why.

The dark threads are as needed
In the Weaver's skillful hand
As the threads of gold and silver
In the pattern He has planned.

I am so sorry to hear about your loss. I remeber your family very well! God Bless, Gina Jenny- You ARE a Beautiful Butterfly... Set free, spread your wings and fly!

Your smile will be truly missed.. But NEVER from my memory!

I will remember how your eyes lit up when you smiled.

I will remember how you had a contagious laugh that when heard no one could resist from joining in!!

I will remember during my sad, dark days, how you would make me look toward the POSITIVE and give me reasons to continue...

Thank you for being YOU! You are indeed a child of GOD!!!!

So until we meet again my friend, I will cherish thoughts of you ALWAYS!!!

To the family: I claim a hedge of protection around you. I ask God in the name of Jesus, to dispatch angels to surround you today and to put them throughout your house and around your cars, souls and bodies.

May you have STRENGTH to endure what it is you need to go through to continue...

In Jesus name I pray, Amen...

Cherished Memories

October 31, 2006

I have so many wonderful memories with Jenn and her family. I only wish that I could have been a part of the last few years of her life. I can't even imagine what you, her family and other friends, are going through. I was so upset when I couldn't find the letters that Jenn and I had written back and forth to each, when she moved away. My mom found them today, and I am so grateful that I found the best one. It is a poem that Jenn wrote me, and I wanted to share it with everyone because I felt like it reflected her love for each one of us. So here it is.

Mr. and Mrs. Forbing,

I've only met Mrs. Forbing once and one of Jen's Sister's while we lived together for the past year and a half. But, as you can see from all of the thoughts on this page there are so many people's lives Jenny touched. I can't begin to imagine what you all are going through in this time and I hope you find some comfort with the knowledge of what a powerful, strong daughter you raised who impacted others every day.

I will miss her, and keep my prayers and thoughts focused on you and your family.

I Shall Never Leave You

October 31, 2006

From everything we know about your sweet Jennifer, this poem seems to be written about her. Find strength in each other, your family and friends. Cherish the wonderful memories you have of her and smile each time you reflect on one of them.

I SHALL NEVER LEAVE YOU

I am the breeze that forces through the open window,
Gently blowing across your face.

I am the tree swaying with the breeze.

I am the leaves falling softly to the ground.

The fragrance of the grass tantalizing your nostrils.

I am the hills, their soft curves caressing the sky.

I am the sea flowing gently or wildly slapping at the shore.

I shall never leave you.

I am what you see, smell or touch.

I am the part of you that lives.

I am happy with each new day, for when you rejoice,

I am alive once again.

October 31, 2006

I will never forget the time that I met Jeni at Preston Hills, the day that she rented her apartment. I was coming back from a hair appointment and the office had already closed, and I unlocked the door, and there she was sitting on the sofa. I never thought that in a million years that we would have become such good friends, have apartments right next to each other, or that this would happen. I remember all the good time, like puppy sitting zeus while she went to work, or my cat and the dog playing with each other across the balconies, while Jeni and I laughed and laughed at how cute it was. She was the most non judgemental, kind hearted, human being I have ever met. She never had a bad thing to say about anyone. She had the best attitude I have ever seen. 3 very good years I knew her. I feel blessed that I had the privelege of calling her a friend.

I am sorry

October 30, 2006

To say I am sorry for your loss is an understatement... For too short of a time I knew your daughter, but the impact she made on my heart and life will last forever. When I remember Jeni I think of only the good times, the "family" dinners, the smiles, the talks we had, the kind letters trying to get me through one of the most difficult times in my life and the glow she had around everytime she walked into a room. My father died 4 months ago, so I know the numbness you must feel right now. It is a difficult time for everyone in your family. I never got a chance to talk to you when I got out. Jeni and I dated briefly again but kept you guys very far from me. Needless to say after everything that happened it wasn't the same for either one of us. But the good times we did share, at least gave me the basis for the type of woman I did want to marry one day. I am sorry for anything I might have done to hurt your family. I hope one day you can forgive and know your in my prayers daily.

Two roses are positioned in the upper right quadrant of the image. The rose on the left is smaller and more tightly curled, while the one on the right is larger and more open, showing its petals. They are set against a background of soft, out-of-focus greenery. The overall image has a textured, aged appearance with a warm, olive-green color palette.

Missing You

I think about you everyday and find myself talking to you and asking for your guidance. I miss our daily conversations and the way you were able to help me see the positive in everthing. I dont forget and I wont forget you. I just wanted to tell you I love you and I missing you. Till we meet again my friend.

It's hard, I look at this site often... Wondering now why I didn't take the time to talk to you face to face when I could... I have talked to Kelsey and James, as you know, looking down from heaven. It doesn't help. I feel so bad for your family. I feel sometimes I set you on a path of trouble that eventually would hurt you. I see how comments trickle less and less as time goes on. I wish I could be like a lot of other people and move on but I feel like the one person who ever understand the thoughts that went through my head is gone. And I can't shake that loss. Please give me the strength to understand you are in a happy place and to move on. I miss u so much!!!

Elly

Hey Jenn ~ I keep having these dreams about seeing you - especially when we were really young - like sixth or seventh grade... when we would dig through Ab's old Volvo and steal her reds and sit on the swing in the garage and listen to that old Monica CD -- remember that -- "just one of those days" -- I love you sooooo much and I will never forget the wonderful times we shared together.

Love,

As Christmas comes around the corner I think all of us reflect on memories of Christmas's past. I will never forget how you made me buy this ghetto tree and how we spent more time picking up stuff that kitten knocked off of it than anything else.

You have so many people who love you - because you got along with everyone - and they always wanted to be around you. I will never forget you. I miss you so much. I wish I would have called. I'm sorry. I will always cherish the memories we had together -- I only wish that I could remember more. I love you --- Elly

NO FAREWELLS WERE SPOKEN
THERE WAS NO TIME FOR GOODBYES
YOU WERE GONE BEFORE WE KNEW IT
AND ONLY GOD KNOWS WHY
IF TEARS COULD BUILD A STAIRWAY
AND MEMORIES BUILD A LANE

WE WOULD WALK THE PATH TO HEAVEN
AND BRING YOU BACK AGAIN
FRIENDS MAY THINK WE'VE FORGOTTEN
WHEN AT TIMES THEY SEE US SMILE
LITTLE DO THEY KNOW THE HEARTACHE
OUR SMILES HIDE ALL THE WHILE
TO SOME YOU MAY BE GONE
FOR OTHERS A PART OF THE PAST
BUT FOR THOSE WHO LOVED AND LOST YOU
YOUR MEMORY WILL ALWAYS LAST

A DAY WILL NOT GO BY WHEN SOMEONE SOMEWHERE WILL THINK OF YOU!!

YOU ARE MISSED!!!

Jen,

There are so many memories of you in my life that I obviously couldn't write them all in one page. Some of the best memories of you are when Chris went out of town and you stayed with me. That was our tradition and come hell or high water you were going to be there. We stayed up laughing for hours about the stupidest stuff and watched dumb movies that we could make fun of. Then of course when we went to bed we continued laughing because my dogs loved your hair. I'm really going to miss those times with you but I know that next time Chris goes out of town you'll still be with. Just in a different way. The last 9 years are filled with so many memories of you and they will never be replaced by anyone. I love you girl. I'm not going to say goodbye....See you later.

Kelsey Lynne (kelbell)

Too many memories to say...almost 9 years worth. I love you, always will. You were my best friend, no matter what happened, if I really needed someone, I called you. I was there for Jon, Chris, Micheal, Allen, Jon (again), Kevin, and then Jon(again again) and all those in between. I just can't say enough about all the good memories that you've given me. You've meant so much to me throughout high school and college and you were there for every big moment in my life. Every big memory has you in it and I thank you for that. I love you Jeni (Geni, Jen, Jenni, Jenny...), you will forever be a part of my heart.

The Suburben

One memory of Jeni that keeps playing over and over in my head is her and her first car the suburben. She was so small and it was so big. Jeni, Kelsey, Tami and I would all pile in the front seat and ride out to winder and pick of John and his friends. I swear it was a party on wheels. We would sing we would dance since there was so much room. That thing was so ugly but it gave me some of my favorite memories with Jeni! Thank you for that Mr. and Mrs. Forbing!
